

The National Safety Council, a leader in driver improvement for more than 40 years, developed Alive at 25 to specifically target drivers in this age group.

- Since 1995, more than 400,000 young adults have learned lifesaving driving skills through the program Alive at 25.
- In a recent study by the Colorado State Patrol, 93% of Alive at 25 participants said they would change their driving behavior afterwards.
- Courts and schools nationwide use Alive At 25 in their graduate license and violator programs.

This highly interactive four-hour program teaches young drivers between the ages of 16 and 24 to take responsibility for their driving actions.

Skill practices and on-the-spot defensive driving techniques help change bravado to confidence.

Our Alive at 25 instructors use personal examples and humor to get their point across to young drivers. They use workbook exercises, interactive media segments, group discussions, role playing, and short lectures to help young drivers develop convictions and strategies that will keep them safer on the road.

Testimonials:

"I learned that I need to not cave under pressure and take more responsibility for my actions."

"I thought this course was educational and I learned a lot. I've been in situations like some of those and I'll know how to respond to them better now. My awareness of surroundings and distractions will be increased. I recommend others to take this course."
