SENIOR ANGELS RECEIVE GRANT

John Orso, M. J. Pomilla and Ken Brooks are seen accepting a check from the Greene County Legislature and Wayne Speenburgh Grant Foundation. This grant is available for youth, senior, veteran and other not-for-profit organizations that benefit Greene County residents. Funds may be used for projects and events, in this case the Community Thanksgiving Dinner, that enhance the quality of life for residents.
Thérèse McGee Ward, Executive Director of the Greene County Department of Human Services, announces a series of Public Hearings to review and comment on its service plan for the years 2017 through 2020. These meetings are not only of interest to senior citizens and their families, but also to community agencies and policymakers who have interest, questions or concerns about services in support of the elderly.

The public is invited and encouraged to attend. Our thanks to the municipalities and organizations listed for hosting these meetings.

The Schedule of Hearings is as follows:

AGENDA:
- Greeting & Introductions
- 2017 – 2020 Plan
- Question, Answer & Comment Period

MEETING DATES/LOCATIONS:
- Wednesday, November 9 12:45 p.m.
  Bethany Village, VanHeest Hall, Coxsackie
- Monday, November 14 12:45 p.m.
  Rivertown Senior Center, 39 Third Street, Athens
- Tuesday, November 15 7:00 p.m.
  Durham Town Hall, 7309 State Rte. 81, East Durham

AN IMPORTANT MESSAGE FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

As we enter the winter season, we are asking for the help and cooperation of the people we serve, especially those who receive home delivered meals and use our transportation services.

During snow or ice storms, it may be necessary for us to close our senior service centers and cancel meals for the day because of hazardous driving conditions. When we close the centers, we also cancel our transportation services for the day, which includes the vans to the centers, the Shopping Bus, and medical transportation. When the centers are closed, we announce it on TV channels 6, 10, and 13, and on radio stations WHUC 1230 AM, WGY 810 AM, WCZR 93.5 FM, WCTW 98.5 FM, and WRIP 97.9 FM.

Our volunteers are the cornerstone of our services, especially for home delivered meals and medical transportation. Most of these volunteers are senior citizens themselves and use their own vehicles. We keep this in mind when the roads are bad or there has been a heavy snowfall the night before. We will close the service for the day before we put any volunteers or staff in danger.

We must also consider the danger of asking someone to deliver a meal to a home when the driveway or sidewalk is not cleared and/or passable. If the volunteer cannot safely get to the home, we will not deliver the meal.

We hope you understand that we want to provide our clients with the services they need, but we cannot endanger the safety of our volunteers and our staff in the process. We thank you for your assistance and cooperation.

Thérèse McGee Ward
Executive Director
SHOPPING BUS

The Greene County Department of Human Services offers a shopping bus to Greene County residents age 60 and older, living in the towns of Ashland, Athens, Cairo, Catskill, Coxsackie, Greenville, Hunter, Jewett, Prattsville and Windham. Seniors are picked up at their door, driven to Catskill for shopping, and then have lunch at a local Senior Center before returning home. Special trips on a periodic basis.

MONDAY: Mountaintop/Catskill
(Windham, Ashland, Prattsville, Jewett & Hunter)

TUESDAY: Cairo/Catskill

WEDNESDAY: Athens/Coxsackie

THURSDAY: Cairo/Greenville

NOTE:
The Hamlet Shopping Bus does not run on the following holidays observed in New York State government:

- New Years Day
- Martin Luther King Day
- Presidents’ Day
- Memorial Day
- Independence Day
- Columbus Day
- Election Day (November)
- Veterans’ Day
- Thanksgiving
- Christmas

In addition, during snow or ice storms, it may be necessary for us to close our senior service centers because of hazardous driving conditions. When we close the centers, we also cancel our transportation services for the day, which includes the Hamlet Bus.

NOVEMBER—AMERICAN DIABETES MONTH

NUTRITION GUIDELINES FOR DIABETES MANAGEMENT

If you have diabetes, it is important to eat well to help keep yourself healthy. Nutrition care should be personalized for each person based on blood glucose (sugar) level, blood lipid (fat) levels, risk factors for heart disease and high blood pressure, exercise habits, and food preferences.

For most people, general guidelines for diabetes are as follows:

- Aim to maintain a healthy weight
- Exercise moderately for about 30 minutes at least five times per week
- Get your carbohydrates mainly from fruits, vegetables, whole grains, legumes, and low-fat or skim dairy products
- Limit saturated fats, trans fats, and dietary cholesterol
- Consider using sugar substitutes
- Do not use low-carbohydrate diets to control diabetes

If you currently have prediabetes, controlling your weight can help prevent you from getting type 2 diabetes. If you already have diabetes, controlling your weight can help you improve your blood sugar levels. A healthy eating pattern, combined with regular physical activity, can help people who are overweight lose weight and keep it off. Frequently, this will also lead to improvements in blood lipid levels.

Individuals must find a healthy eating pattern that they can continue for a lifetime in order to successfully achieve weight loss and weight maintenance. No best diet exists because different things work for different people. However, changing eating and exercise behaviors is essential for successful weight loss.

To lose weight, a deficit (decrease) of approximately 500 calories per day is generally recommended. A combination of eating and drinking fewer calories, and burning more calories through physical activity can create this deficit, and help you lose weight. Generally, about one hour per day of moderate-intensity aerobic exercise, such as brisk walking, along with small calorie restrictions will produce weight loss.

It is true that everyone, including those with diabetes, should try to get most of their carbohydrates from foods that also contain other nutrients, such as whole-grain breads and cereals, legumes, low-fat or skim milk, fruits, and vegetables. A healthy diet can include refined carbohydrates, such as white bread, white rice, and regular pasta, as long as you also include whole grains and monitor portion sizes. You can substitute sugary foods and drinks for other carbohydrates in your meal plan every now and then. On your birthday, for example, you could substitute a small piece of birthday cake for the roll you usually eat at dinner. Remember, most sweets, such as cakes, cookies, pies, and candy, will raise your blood sugar more quickly, and they have very few valuable nutrients. It is best to get most of your carbohydrates from the more nutritious foods previously mentioned.

Carbohydrates are important to good health. In fact, your body needs at least 130 grams (g) of carbohydrates each day to work correctly. Foods that contain carbohydrate often are good sources of energy, fiber, vitamins, and minerals. One key to diabetes management is choosing most of your carbohydrates from whole-grain breads and cereals, fruits, vegetables, legumes, and low-fat or skim milk, rather than avoiding carbohydrates altogether.

People with diabetes are at risk for heart disease. For that reason, you should limit your intake of saturated fat and trans fat, which can raise your blood cholesterol and increase your risk for heart disease. Saturated fat is usually found in animal foods, such as: fatty cuts of beef, pork, and chicken; processed meats, such as bacon, sausage, and luncheon meats and whole milk products. Trans fats may be found in fried foods, and snack foods including commercial baked goods; cookies; fried foods and margarine. Look for the words “partially hydrogenated” on the ingredients label to identify foods that contain trans fats. Limiting these types of foods may help prevent heart or circulatory problems as a result of your diabetes. Fat is also very high in calories. Eating too much fat makes it very difficult to maintain a healthy weight.

The Greene County Department of Human Services RSVP would like to welcome and say thank you to the following new volunteers:

Wilbur Bogardus, Jr.
Edward Campbell III
Ronnie Campbell
Nancy Johansen
Russell Pope
William VonAtzingen

As always, we thank all our volunteers for what they do.

GREENE COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES ALWAYS HAS OPPORTUNITIES FOR VOLUNTEERS.

Do you drive? Consider delivering meals to homebound seniors.
Or you could drive a senior without transportation to a medical appointment.
Don’t drive? Maybe you would like to make telephone calls to lonely isolated seniors?
Need more socializing? How about volunteering at a congregate meal site?

Haven’t seen what you’re looking for listed?
Give Ruth Pforte, Volunteer Coordinator, a call at 719-3555 for information on these opportunities and the many others we have to offer.

DELIVER HOMEBOUND MEALS
The department provides healthy, balanced meals to Greene County residents, age 60 and older, who cannot prepare meals for themselves. Volunteers deliver these meals and check on the senior.

HOMEBOUND MEDICAL TRANSPORTATION
Homebound Medical Transportation Service is available through the Department to county residents, age 60 and older, that do not have other options for needed transportation. The program will arrange for a volunteer driver. Rides are arranged to medical appointments and to special entitlement agencies.

Are you willing to drive seniors to appointments in a neighboring county? We especially could use you.
Greene County Legislator Gene Hatton graciously offered to serve as the Master of Ceremonies for the luncheon. After a brief moment of silence in memory of departed volunteers, Rosemary Graham sang “God Bless America”. This was followed by a delicious lunch prepared by the staff at Community Life Church and served to those in attendance by Catskill High School’s Future Career and Community Leaders of America. During lunch, music was provided by “Dusk to Dawn” and a few souls even got up to dance. Following lunch, commendations to Greene County RSVP were made by Congressman Chris Gibson; Senator George Amedore & Assemblyman Peter Lopez. This was followed by a presentation by Ken Brooks, Chairman of the Greene County Senior Angels committee, kicking off the annual fund drive and inviting those who would be alone for Thanksgiving to join us in a Community Thanksgiving Dinner. The afternoon closed with the drawing of the 50/50 and the awarding of Door Prizes. Thanks to all who helped make the day as sweet as honey!
Seniors Helping Seniors

The Greene County Aging Services Foundation, Inc. raises funds to support some of the essential programs of the Department of Human Services.

Kind, generous volunteers transport local seniors to medical appointments out of the goodness of their hearts. But very few of these wonderful people can afford to carry out this effort without some reimbursement for vehicle costs. With cutbacks at all levels of government, the County is in need of your support more than ever. The Foundation assists in reimbursing the volunteers who perform this service.

We, as seniors, recognize the value that such programs bring to our communities. Let us remember that many of our loved ones, friends and families have received personal benefits from this important service.

Please make checks payable to the Greene County Aging Services Foundation Inc., and mail to:

Seniors Helping Seniors

The Greene County Aging Services Foundation, Inc. raises funds to support some of the essential programs of the Department of Human Services.
New York State Office for the Aging Acting Director Greg Olsen reminds older New Yorkers about the importance of getting their flu vaccination as soon as possible. “Flu season” in the United States can begin as early as October and last as late as May. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recommends that everyone six months of age and older, particularly those at greater risk, get their annual flu vaccine by the end of October, if possible.

Influenza symptoms include fever, cough, sore throat, runny or stuffy nose, body aches, headache, chills and fatigue. Some people may also have vomiting and diarrhea. People infected with the flu may also have respiratory symptoms without a fever. The flu can cause mild to severe illness. Adults aged 65 years and older, people with certain chronic medical conditions, young children, and pregnant women are among those who are at highest risk of serious flu complications, possibly requiring hospitalization and sometimes resulting in death.

“The best way to protect against the flu is to get an annual flu shot,” said Olsen. “Our immune systems are more easily compromised as we age, and older adults, especially those with chronic health conditions, have an increased risk of developing serious complications from the flu. Getting the flu vaccine helps prevent the spread of the virus and offers vital protection for older adults and their caregivers.”

“Getting a flu shot is essential to staying healthy during the colder months, when the flu virus is most active,” said Commissioner of Health Dr. Howard Zucker. “We urge all New Yorkers to get an annual flu shot, but especially older adults, who are at greater risk for serious illness.”

Federal health officials have noted that fewer older adults have been getting vaccinated each year. According to the CDC, about 45 percent of the US population got vaccinated against the virus last year, down 1.5 percent overall from the previous year. Vaccinations among people aged 50 and older decreased by more than 3 percent. The CDC also reports that a study conducted in 2016 showed that those people 50 years and older who got a flu vaccine reduced their risk of getting hospitalized from flu by 57 percent.

The CDC recommends the following actions for older adults:

- Get your annual flu shot by the end of October, if possible. However, as long as flu viruses are circulating, vaccination should continue throughout flu season, even in January or later.
- Practice good health habits, including covering coughs, washing hands often, and avoiding people who are sick.
- Seek medical advice quickly, if you develop flu symptoms, to see whether you might need medical evaluation or treatment with antiviral drugs. It's very important that antiviral drugs be used early to treat flu in people who are very sick with flu (for example, people who are in the hospital), and people who are sick with flu and have a greater chance of getting serious flu complications, like people aged 65 and older. A full list of high risk factors is available at “People at High Risk of Developing Flu-Related Complications.”
- Get pneumococcal vaccines. People aged 65 years and older should also be up to date with pneumococcal vaccination to protect against pneumococcal disease, such as pneumonia, meningitis, and bloodstream infections. Talk to your doctor to find out which pneumococcal vaccines are recommended for you.

About the New York State Office for the Aging
The mission of the New York State Office for the Aging (NYSOFA) is to help older New Yorkers be as independent as possible, for as long as possible, through advocacy, development and delivery of person-centered, consumer-oriented, and cost-effective policies, programs, and services that support and empower older adults and their families, in partnership with the network of public and private organizations that serve them.
Medicare decisions are highly personal. And there may be as many different questions about Medicare as there are beneficiaries—maybe more. But certain questions seem to come up more often than others. Here are some with the answers.

1. How do I know what Medicare coverage is right for me?
   The answer to this may be easy to say and maybe not as easy to do. You need to understand your personal needs and choose Medicare coverage to help meet them. Use this simple tool to get a quick idea of the type of coverage that might work for you.

2. How much does Medicare cost?
   Your costs will depend on the type of coverage you choose. You will likely pay the Part B premium to Medicare. Beyond that, you may pay other premiums, deductibles, co-pays and co-insurance. The total amount will depend on the Medicare coverage you choose and the health care services you use.

3. What do I do about Medicare if I work past age 65?
   Many people enroll in just Part A when they turn 65 and have employer coverage. Generally, Part A is premium free if you or your spouse worked and paid Medicare taxes for at least 10 years. You may be able to delay enrolling in Part B without penalty if your employer provides creditable coverage.

4. How can I get dental and vision coverage with Medicare?
   Original Medicare (Parts A and B) does not cover routine dental or vision care, however, some private Medicare Advantage plans do. Plans include all the coverage provided by Parts A and B, and often additional benefits, all in one plan.

5. What’s the difference between Medicare supplement insurance and Medicare Advantage?
   Medicare supplement insurance is also known as Medigap. It’s private insurance you can buy to help pay for some costs not paid by Original Medicare (Parts A and B). Medicare Advantage is an alternative to Original Medicare. It’s a different way to get your Medicare benefits.

6. What’s the difference between a Medicare Advantage HMO and a PPO?
   A Medicare Advantage HMO plan usually helps pay only for care you receive from providers in the plan network. A PPO plan will generally help pay for care received outside the plan network, but it may pay less than for the same care received within the network.

7. Where can I get help paying for Medicare?
   Financial assistance programs for people with limited income and assets include Extra Help for prescription drugs, the Medicare Savings Program and Medicaid, to name a few. Qualifications for each program and the level of help offered vary.

8. How does Medicare automatic renewal work?
   Your Medicare coverage choices will stay in place year after year unless you make a change. This ensures that your coverage continues, but plan benefits and costs may change. It’s a good idea to review your Medicare choices every year during Medicare Open Enrollment, Oct. 15 – Dec. 7, to make sure you have the Medicare coverage that fits with your needs.

9. What’s the difference between Medicare and Medicaid?
   Medicare and Medicaid are both government health care programs but they are very different. Medicare is generally for people who are older or disabled. Medicaid is for people with limited income and resources.

10. I’m disabled. When can I get Medicare?
    In general, you are eligible for Medicare after receiving Social Security disability benefits for 24 months. There are exceptions for people with certain medical conditions.
